Racist people aren't afraid to do racist things, why be afraid to call them racists.

It won't always show up in a white hood. There is a person who put on that robe and a person who takes it off. There are people who think the outfit is a bit much, but generally like the ideas.

This happens at so many different levels. Challenging someone's citizenship is no different than, let's say, blindly accusing someone of idk... kneeling during the national anthem.

You let people get away with it, they're gonna do it again, more egregiously.

Funny part is I saw a truck in the area and thought whether or not to flag him down. Driving by and slowing down a bit is not a delivery attempt.

I've spent more time just walking outside in the past 5 months than I have in my entire life and one thing that I feel more certain about than ever is how important it is to have free public parks, playgrounds, and outdoor green spaces accessible to all people in all communities.

And I didn't have a strong opinion on this before, but I also think cities would be so much better if we banned cars from many of our streets and instead turned them into walking/biking/running spaces. It transforms cities and communities

There's at least a framework for tradit onal conventions. this was basically a concept that we just had to roll with. Did Milwaukee miss out on a whole ot? Yes. And think there should be some kind of restitution That's another conversation for another day.

Reflecting on 2018, when I was honored to meet this VIP pulling out all the stops to get the vote out in MKE. Seems like no matter how hard we run the race, someone's always trying to move the finish line. It's exhausting.

"As leaders we can no longer be bound to special interest groups. We need to start acting in the best of interest of the people and the planet - especially those who have been disproportionately impacted by climate change. It's time we guarantee Black, Indigenous, and people of color the same rights to clean water and fresh air as others, and it's time we provided the space for them to lead this movement."

Vel Phillips taught us to dream big dreams, and for that, we are thankful. I'm proud to have had the opportunity of her friendship. She was a trailblazer and an inspiration to much of my own work. We lost a champion in every sense of the word.

When civil unrest takes a turn, they always ask how it'll impact democrats chances, but there was an attempted kidnapping of a governor to overthrow a state — including violence against law enforcement — will they ask the same of republicans?

There was an attempt to KIDNAP a governor and overthrow a state with targeted attacks on law enforcement. I feel like this is worth repeating. It was a sub national coup attempt!

Some regional context: Illinois also hit a record with 69 deaths. That's 21 more than us.

Illinois' also has well over twice the population of Wisconsin with almost 7 million more residents.

Reflecting on 2018, when I was honored to meet this VIP pulling out all the stops to get the vote out in MKE. Seems like no matter how hard we run the race, someone's always trying to move the finish line. It's exhausting.

We've got stamina.

The only baseline for healthcare is that coverage should be extended to everyone. We can have the debate on how we get there the fastest, but dismissal of universal healthcare without an alternative cannot enter the discussion

If there's a climate and jobs plan that's more comprehensive or one that meets the urgency better than some form of a green new deal, then let's talk about it. Just saying it won't work, won't work.

We desperately have to grow in rural areas, but going about it as a gop-lite operation won't give people a reason to vote for us. Income inequality because of factory farms is parallel to income inequality in any major city, and we need to be unabashed about dismantling it.

We desperately have to grow in rural areas, but going about it as a gop-lite operation won't give people a reason to vote for us. Income inequality because of factory farms is parallel to income inequality in any major city, and we need to be unabashed about dismantling it

3 14 99

And fair maps. There's the obvious electoral advantage, but the hollow bravado it gives them is amazing. It's like being trapped in a block-and-blame cycle

2 4 65

Ryan Wood @WiscoWood 22 Min

I'm with you, but farming and fair maps won't win over Burnett, Polk, and St. Croix counties (where I'm from). People here don't see themselves in the Democratic Party. I don't want to become GOP-lite, either, but I feel like we do need to look inward.

Thanks for this. By gop-lite, I mean than we can't just kinda do what they do and expect people to show up for us. We have to take hard stances on the issues that are destroying communities. Not expecting to win all them all in the next few cycles, but we can make gains

My office has been putting out information for months about how election processes work in the state & all we do to ensure security & fairness. If you haven't been paying attention, that's on you, but don't show up when you don't like the result & scream fraud w/no evidence.

We'll turn the corner on 1 million coronavirus cases in the United States today.

This is an indictment on the lack of action taken to stop the spread. It's encouraging that president-elect Biden's task force made up of physicians and health experts.

Deleting the whole tweet. Screenshot for accountability. We are hitting/have hit ten million coronavirus cases.

The charge and the commendation still stand.

They create barriers to voting.
You overcome the barriers, they don't want your vote to count.
There's a thin line between run-of-the-mill voter suppression and the dissolution of democracy.

One thing I didn't consider about [redacted] is that his parents named for Nelson Mandela while Nelson Mandela was still in prison in Robben Island. It's one thing to love Nelson Mandela after he became Madiba. It's pretty bold to name him while he was a political prisoner.

It's extremely difficult for a whole lot of people, and I fully understand that. This is why we need the federal government to step up and provide some certainty to families and small businesses. We need a national plan and relief package now

Without income stabilization, we can't expect people to just do the things we need to keep the virus under control. Without paid leave, we can't expect people to stay home from work when they may be at risk (in a pandemic or otherwise).

It's less about making sense, and more about attempting to delegitimize the most diverse voting blocs in the state.

The issue of voting rights is never resolved, especially with the gutting of the Voting Rights Act. We could also use a Right to Vote Amendment while we're here.

Thank you for 4 years of conservative leadership You've proven that a business minded outsider can be effective in DC and your legacy will last a generation in our Supreme Ct Let's agree that re-electing & should be your top priority.

I'm not one to pass on opportunities to rightfully criticize the outgoing administration, but it is morally deficient that a life saving vaccine can get caught up in this kind of horse trading.

It's not great how easily it they'd make it back either. We're doing this all wrong; the U.S. and NZ are the only countries that allow direct to consumer pharmaceutical advertising.

Everything about this is maddening.

I often wonder what's worse than gop legislators doing nothing, and this is up there. Save for the outgoing president, rarely does one step up in more actively harmful ways.

We'll continue the work to stop the virus, even as some make it more difficult.

Today, I humbly and honorably served as Secretary for the Electoral College. With that, many thoughts are swirling as the institution has been less than democratic, and some disastrous outcomes have been the result.

Today's preceding "victory" in 4 to 3 SCOWIS decision was a mockery of justice itself. This magnetic partisanship and impact on people's lives outside of the ruling should challenge us to think of a better, more effective court system.

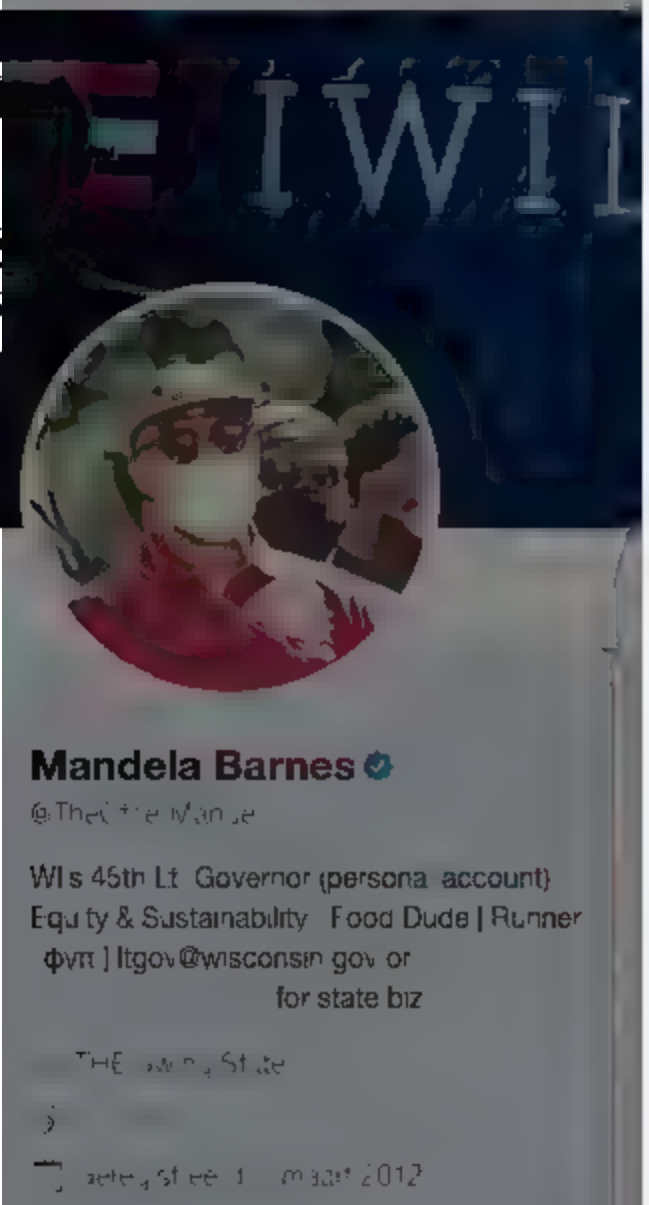
That and the fact that 5 of 9 SCOTUS Justices were appointed by presidents who lost the popular vote does not sit well



I have mixed emotions because we can celebrate the will of the people having prevailed, but we should just be able to expect that. Democracy is way too fragile

Yeah, but we need aid to states and for individual relief to not be a half sized version of the CARES Act.

PPP should also be more clear before putting more money in. There is way too much uncertainty for small businesses with what feels like rules being made up on the fly.

.@GovEvers sent a letter to @SpeakerVos and @SenatorDevin saying there is plenty in COVID-19 relief they agree on and asks them to take up his compromise proposal "without delay."

Senator Devin LeMahieu
Senate Majority Leader-elect
Room 211 South
State Capitol
P.O. Box 7882

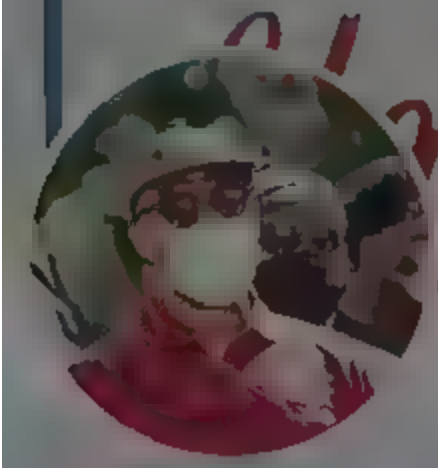
Representative Robin Vos
Assembly Speaker
Room 217 West
State Capitol
P.O. Box 8953
Madison, Wisconsin 53708

Dear Majority Leader-elect LeMahieu and Speaker Vos:

I have appreciated our conversations over the last several weeks, but have been disappointed there has not been a willingness to move forward on a bill yet this month. Unfortunately, as it does not look like our schedules are going to align to meet again before Christmas, I write today to put forward a commonsense compromise that includes the items on which all of us can agree and ask you to take it up without delay.



The initial proposal I sent to you was a reasonable one that attempted to find consensus, capture a number of needed provisions to aid our response, address the effects of COVID-19, and ensure that we have the resources allocated to respond to the ever changing needs during the pandemic. Following that proposal, both of you have put forward a list of ideas from your caucuses to consider as well. All parties have agreed there are items in each of our three proposals that we could support. As I have indicated in our conversations, there are several provisions in your proposals that are either unworkable, overtly political, or are items my administration has addressed or is already working to address, and you likewise have objected to several of the proposals that I have put forward, even some that were passed under Act 185 earlier this year.

It is time to move forward on provisions where there is agreement. As I have repeatedly indicated, the goal was to have a bill passed by mid-December, but was willing to give you additional time to speak to your caucuses to find a united, bipartisan approach. However, we now face the end of the year, and a bill has not yet been passed. In the interest of reaching a timely agreement on these pressing issues, I am willing to make compromises and find middle ground to reach a bipartisan agreement. To be clear, this list is not perfect. I would certainly hope for more support to our state's continued response to the pandemic, and it is unfortunate there seemed to be no appetite from your caucuses on other items such as ensuring those impacted by COVID-19 aren't evicted from their homes, requiring insurers to cover all telehealth services, easing work search requirements for those who have lost their jobs and can't find new work, and making it easier for healthcare workers exposed to COVID-19 to claim workers compensation.

With the importance of these issues only increasing and the new year approaching, compromise by all parties is necessary, which is why not everything we each brought to the table, respectively, is included in the list below. Moving forward on

It's not a matter of can, it's one of will. There isn't a whole lot the U.S. has wanted to do that we haven't been able to. The question is, are we willing to try? Too often, to the biggest questions, the answer is no.

It's not a matter of can, it's one of will. There isn't a whole lot the U.S. has wanted to do that we haven't been able to. The question is, are we willing to try? Too often, to the biggest questions, the answer is no.

Senator Johnson is just doing what he does whenever he get a chance to do it. It's ridiculous. The generations long boomerang from Joe McCarthy to Ron Johnson is truly something to behold.

This is a criminally desperate man. His congressional enablers aren't just chipping away at democracy, they're abetting this crooked activity. They're embarrassing their own supporters in the process.

They really showed up maskless to the COVID memorial. Literally. Nothing else to compare it to. Almost 5,000 lives lost and there isn't enough respect to do what could have significantly reduced that number.

The gist of the @WIAssemblyGOP COVID bill seems to be that they think we're doing too much to fight COVID.

As vaccine distribution ramps up, we need to crush the spread of the virus and get back to normal ASAP, not take an approach that will result in more harm.

Statement from Kenosha Mayor John Antaramian

We all have just heard the announcement from District Attorney Graveley on his decision not to charge any of the officers in connection with the shooting of Jacob Blake on August 23, 2020. The Wisconsin Department of Justice's independent report contains more than a thousand pages of reports, photos, and other evidence. We are seeing it for the first time today along with all of you. This new information is important, and I encourage everyone to review it.

We recognize that there are many strong feelings and opinions about the decision. Our overriding concern is for the safety of our community – those who live and work here in Kenosha and those who have gathered here to express their opinions.

I want to make this clear – we respect your right to peaceful protest, and we will protect peaceful demonstrations, but we will not – we can not – tolerate the violence we saw in our community earlier this year and we will take measures to protect the safety of our residents, businesses, and visitors.

Before this decision and before the incident of August 23, we have been on a path here where we have been bringing citizens together and engaging in honest discussions about the future of our community. I assure you, that mission will continue.

Thank you for your attention today.

What's video evidence anyway if they just watch it and interpret things other than reality?

Police accountability is one thing, but there's a much deeper failure that allows a person to see the footage and ultimately determine nothing went wrong.

9 years ago the last governor and legislature OK'd policy to allow concealed weapons in the Capitol.

That would not prevent what happened this week in Washington. It's more of an invitation.

GOP denouncing the insurrection without a plan to keep people safe is a hollow gesture.

Scott Bauer ✓ @sbauerAP

The riot at the J S Capitol, and large protests at some state Capitols, has renewed the focus on security at Wisconsin s Capitol n Madison, as @trichmond1 describes:

Now let's talk about maps. Redistricting is right around the corner. Let the voters choose their representatives, not the other way around with the People's Maps Commission.

It's a non partisan issue. If you want to "stop a steal," start by stopping gerrymandering.

There are moments in our nation's history that show we can take great steps forward. Many times, it was on the heels of great pain. The movement & the moment can cause leaders—presidents, senators, congresspeople—to be much greater than they even imagined.

What a wild two weeks for our country but especially for people like Capitol Police Officer Eugene Goodman.

On Jan 6, he put his life on the line when he lured insurrectionists away from Senators and staff.

Two weeks later, he's escorting VPE Kamala Harris into the US Capitol

Over the next few weeks we'll be taking a deeper dive into the budget. You'll likely hear people give bad faith arguments about "spending."

1) It's not spending, it's recovery. People need help.
2) We aren't brooke, we just haven't legalized weed yet.

Act 10 drew a line in the sand. It divided working people of this state, and set the stage for "right to work" and the repeal of prevailing wage 4 years later.

It was a politically motivated travesty that compromised worker safety, pay, benefits, working conditions, and more.

People are putting their lives on the line, just to put food on the table and make rent. These anti worker policies will only deepen the divide and exacerbate inequality

I may be in office now, but I know what side of the line I'm standing on.

One silver lining is that Act 10 motivated so many pro-worker individuals to get involved and run for office. Hard to believe it's been 10 years since I was outside the capitol, marching in the cold with a broken arm, tucked away in the Ed Show audience.

Big night tonight!

Like many other states, the past year has challenged Wisconsin like never before. This budget is about recovery and should not get tied up in the same political theater that has defined the last decade.

Lives and livelihoods are on the line.

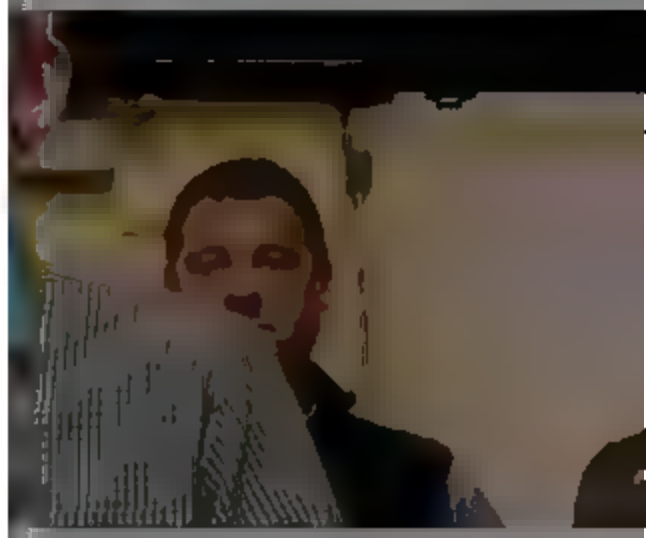
We should be investing in people, not prisons.



That's why our budget will be investing more in our UW System than in our Department of Corrections by the end of the biennium.

Governor Tony Evers ✓ @GovEvers
Our justice system has put a strain on our state. We've failed to adequately fund alternatives to incarceration, prisons are overcrowded, and we have yet to address the disproportionate impact decades of laws have had on communities of color.

We know that communities of color and low-income communities face the harshest impacts of the climate crisis. That's why environmental justice was central to my work as Chair of the Governor's Task Force on Climate Change, and why we're utilizing this framework going forward.

Governor Tony Evers @GovEvers
We can t ignore the role environmental just ce plays n building a state where every family n every z p code can be successful, and if we want to bounce back stronger than ever we can't afford to keep ignoring science and denying the reality of climate change

President Biden & Democratic leaders deserve tremendous credit for not letting the Collins gang water down the aid package. Hard to overstate what a watershed that could be. It was never a foregone conclusion & sticking to their guns took a lot of guts. Now lets play it forward.

WHITE HOUSE LOOKS TO SPLIT COVID PACKAGE IN TWO -- NEC Director BRIAN DEESE and Covid czar JEFF ZIENTS are scheduled to ca - nto the weekly Democratic Senate lunchtime meeting today

The two Biden aides will face an increasingly impatient caucus.

Deese has run two meetings with bipartisan groups in both chambers in recent days, one over the weekend with senators and another Wednesday with House members. Progressives are wary tha President JOE BIDEN is too eager to cut a dea Moderates are wondering why Deese hasn't circled back with information they've requested.

The Deese mission is to figure out what a "60-vote package" looks like Biden aides are clear-eyed that such a deal will be far short of his $1.9 trillion proposal. A 60-vote deal would have skimpier funding for state and local relief f f any and less money for vaccine distribution, unemployment insurance and nutritional assistance. SNAP It would have far more ta geted relief checks. We are told by administration sources that a bill of this sort might be in the $600-$800 billion range.

The left would revolt. That s where Part 2 of the Biden strategy comes into play Its goal for now is to get the best deal possible that accomplishes a bipartisan result a high-priority personal goal for the president and then take everything that's left out of he skinny relief package and add it o Biden s 'Build Back Better

"I promise I will do everything in my power. I will not relent until we beat this virus, but I need you, the American people," President Biden says. "And that is not hyperbole. I need you. I need you to get vaccinated when it's your turn and when you can find an opportunity."

President Biden says by July 4th "small groups" should be able to get together for backyard barbecues to mark our "independence from this virus" and the independence of the country.

But, he cautions that's the "goal" and that things can change.

Addressing anti-Asian hate is a necessary departure from what we had this time last year. The old president continues to demagogue an entire group of people, putting them at even greater risk because of his own failures.

I continue to not be shocked. Did we really think racism was not on the Ron Johnson bingo card?? It trends with any other wild theory he's bandied about.

I will say this; his words invite more chaos and violence. He is the de facto Donald Trump.

We should all be outraged. It's truly awful that the rhetoric from so many of our "leaders" and clowns across media platforms led to this type of violence targeted at the AAPI community. Anytime you rile people up by making another group of people the enemy, this is the result.

A year into the pandemic, one thing that has been clear is that our professional medical staff have gone above and beyond—putting their own health at risk to care for others. Many of them are also dealing with personal loss and lasting trauma brought on by this crisis.

I hope UnityPoint Health-Meriter Hospital recognizes that we would be in a much different place if we didn't have the dedicated nursing staff to get us through this public health crisis. That recognition should be reflected in a fair contract.

Not only did the #ACA expand healthcare to millions who were uninsured, it also enshrined critical protections for patients against discrimination. Now, @GovEvers and I are working to take us further by expanding BadgerCare and paving the way for a public option in our state.

The story of resurrection is one about triumph, as is the season of spring itself.

We don't have to settle in, or for despair. I believe in better, but matching that belief with work is what moves us forward.

Happy Easter!

I think voting rights is infrastructure, I think gun control is infrastructure. I think restructuring SCOTUS is too. Take a chapter right out of the trump playbook say it's true & it is. If someone objects, fire them & replace with someone that agrees with you.

The police have proven they cannot handle the responsibility of having guns. They do not appreciate that they are supposed to be protecting people, not taking their lives. I am not even sure they understand minorities are people. Is this fixable?

The police have proven they cannot handle the responsibility of having guns. They do not appreciate that they are supposed to be protecting people, not taking their lives. I am not even sure they understand minorities are people. Is this fixable?

I think voting rights is infrastructure, I think gun control is infrastructure. I think restructuring SCOTUS is too. Take a chapter right out of the trump playbook say it's true & it is. If someone objects, fire them & replace with someone that agrees with you.

It's truly amazing how the idea of justice can be cause for celebration. We shouldn't have to take "victories" when we can get them. We shouldn't have had to go through this in the first place. Nevertheless, I hope this verdict ushers in a new era. We all deserve better.

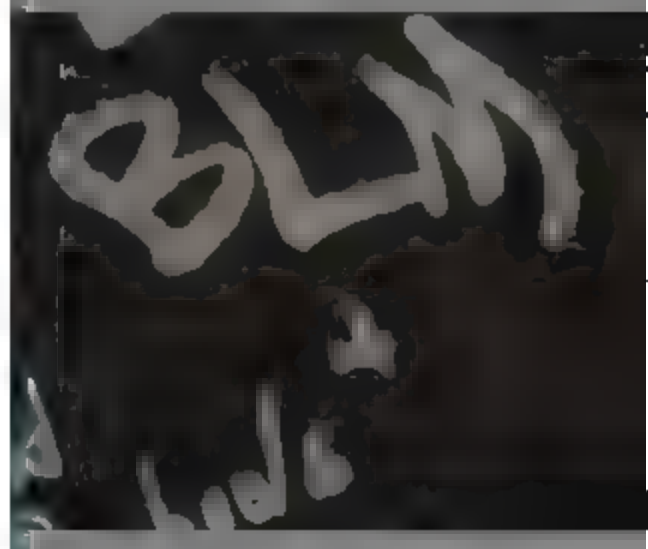
One thing that stands out is the the resilience AND generosity of communities who have experienced the worst.



There are just some things privilege cannot adequately respond to, which is a shame given where power and influence is mostly concentrated.

Looking ahead to '22 and '24, what do Republicans think the party's strategy should be?

53% say the party needs to focus on message and ideas to win over more voters, but 47% say the GOP already has enough voters and should focus on pushing for changes to voting rules instead.

Whether the Court rules in favor of MS or not, they're normalizing narrowing the aperture, placing more people who need abortion further from service. They have always understood, sometimes better than people who support Roe, that a right without access is not a right at all.

Not only will expanding BadgerCare provide 90,000 Wisconsinites with health coverage, under the ARPA, we'll realize $1 billion in cost savings—money we need to invest in our economic recovery.

Time for Republican leaders to put people first and do the right thing for our state.

Our small businesses and our families need flexibility and support as they work to bounce back from this pandemic. BadgerCare expansion provides that flexibility.

We can't let politics get in the way of doing what's best for our state!

Today Democrats were present for a special session called by @GovEvers to expand BadgerCare, save taxpayers $624 million, add to the state's rainy day fund, and fund $850 million worth of projects around Wisconsin.

BadgerCare expansion is widely supported in Wisconsin, and has been adopted in thirty-eight states across the nation, including every single one of our neighboring states here in the Midwest

We've essentially been handed a $1 billion dollar lottery ticket. The only acceptable answer is to cash it by expanding BadgerCare and then invest it in our economic recovery. Let's do what is best for our state and get BadgerCare expansion across the finish line.

Ridiculous. Expanding BadgerCare is the floor.

We're the only nation in the developed world without universal healthcare. The least they can do is show some leadership and expand our medicaid program.

We all saw what happened on January 6th, they want to you to believe it didn't.

We all know the realities of a broken healthcare system, income inequality and climate change. They want you to believe it's not so.

Wisconsin Lawmakers Cut 90% of Proposed Increase for K-12 Education

The budget committee of the Wisconsin legislature, called the Joint Finance Committee, sharply reduced the increase for K-12 funding that Governor Evers proposed in the 2021-23 budget Proposed changes to categories of K-12 funding are shown below, with dollar amounts in millions

For many, the depictions of the Tulsa Race Massacre in shows like "Lovecraft Country: and "Watchmen" were the first times they had heard of the tragedy. These documentaries are a powerful reminder of just how deadly unchecked racism can be.

Good oatmeal is hard to find but vastly underrated as a breakfast option. So versatile, so delicious. But it's NOT a health food, no matter how bland you make it. Smoothies are great, when I worked at Cold Stone Creamery, they were my jam.

This is an indictment on the lack of paid leave.

People's concern about missing work due to side effects means that too many will absolutely go to work even if they feel sick.

And the cycle continues.

Honestly, with so much content, I feel like it's way harder to develop my own opinions on new music like I did back in the day. But if Evan says it's good, it's a check you can cash.

And yes, this album is so very enjoyable!!

I'm Mandela Barnes and I'm running to be Wisconsin's next Senator.

Hard-working families deserve every opportunity, but politicians like Senator Ron Johnson aren't delivering. Instead of changing our dreams, we need to change the game. Join us.

Milwaukee! Thank you for starting this campaign strong with me. I grew up here. Many think of the 53206 as one of the nation's most incarcerated, impoverished zip codes. Folks aren't expected to make it. But today, we started a movement that will fight for opportunity for all.

These storm systems will continue to grow in intensity unless we take bold action.

Bad faith actors will say a green new deal is the problem. Now it may look different depending on the state, but with the right approach, it would be the climate and jobs solution Wisconsin needs.

NEW: State Senator @ChrisJLarson suspends U.S. Senate campaign, endorses Mandela Barnes.

Barnes as the candidate voters can most trust to defeat Senator Ron Johnson, deliver for working people in Wisconsin, and fight for bold progressive priorities like Medicare For All, a job-creating Green New Deal, and a wealth tax to make ultra-millionaires pay their fair share.

Statement From Sen. Chris Larson:

"Today I made the decision to suspend my campaign for United States Senate. While I won't be the candidate who takes on Ron Johnson next fall, I remain as committed as ever to assuring his defeat and electing Democrats who will fight for progressive values up and down the ballot in 2022.

"I'm endorsing Mandela Barnes for Senate.

Decision of state Sen. @ChrisJLarson to quit the Wisconsin US Senate race and endorse Lt. Gov. Mandala Barnes is a boost for @TheOtherMandela. Larson staked out a progressive lane—focusing on #MedicareForAll and other key issues. His backing helps Barnes consolidate support.

Statement From Chris Larson:

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Sen. Chris Larson suspends U.S. Senate campaign, endorses Mandela Barnes

"Mandela is the candidate who can defeat Ron Johnson and deliver for the people of Wisconsin next November."

Milwaukee, WI – State Sen. Chris Larson (D-Milwaukee) has decided to suspend his campaign for United States Senate effective today. Lieutenant Governor Mandela Barnes is the candidate who can most clearly draw a contrast with Ron Johnson, and give the bold progressive message the Milwaukee Democratic establishment has been afraid to embrace the best chance

The bipartisan bill is only a step—we must do more—but it's critical for Wisconsin and Ron Johnson's "hard no" shows why we need new leadership in the Senate.
